Futures trading involves the substantial risk of loss and is not suitable for all investors.

Daily bulletins appear below, the first issued, at the bottom. This PDF file name includes the date of the first issue in the format yy/mm/dd, a format that sorts file storage in chronological order. As this market is updated daily, a new chart is added to the top. This file is replaced each 2-3 weeks, or as necessary owing to major changes and contract rolling. The commentary box is only changed when market conditions warrant, which may not be each day. Markets are updated a minimum of 48 weeks per year. Prior notice is given of impending breaks in daily delivery.

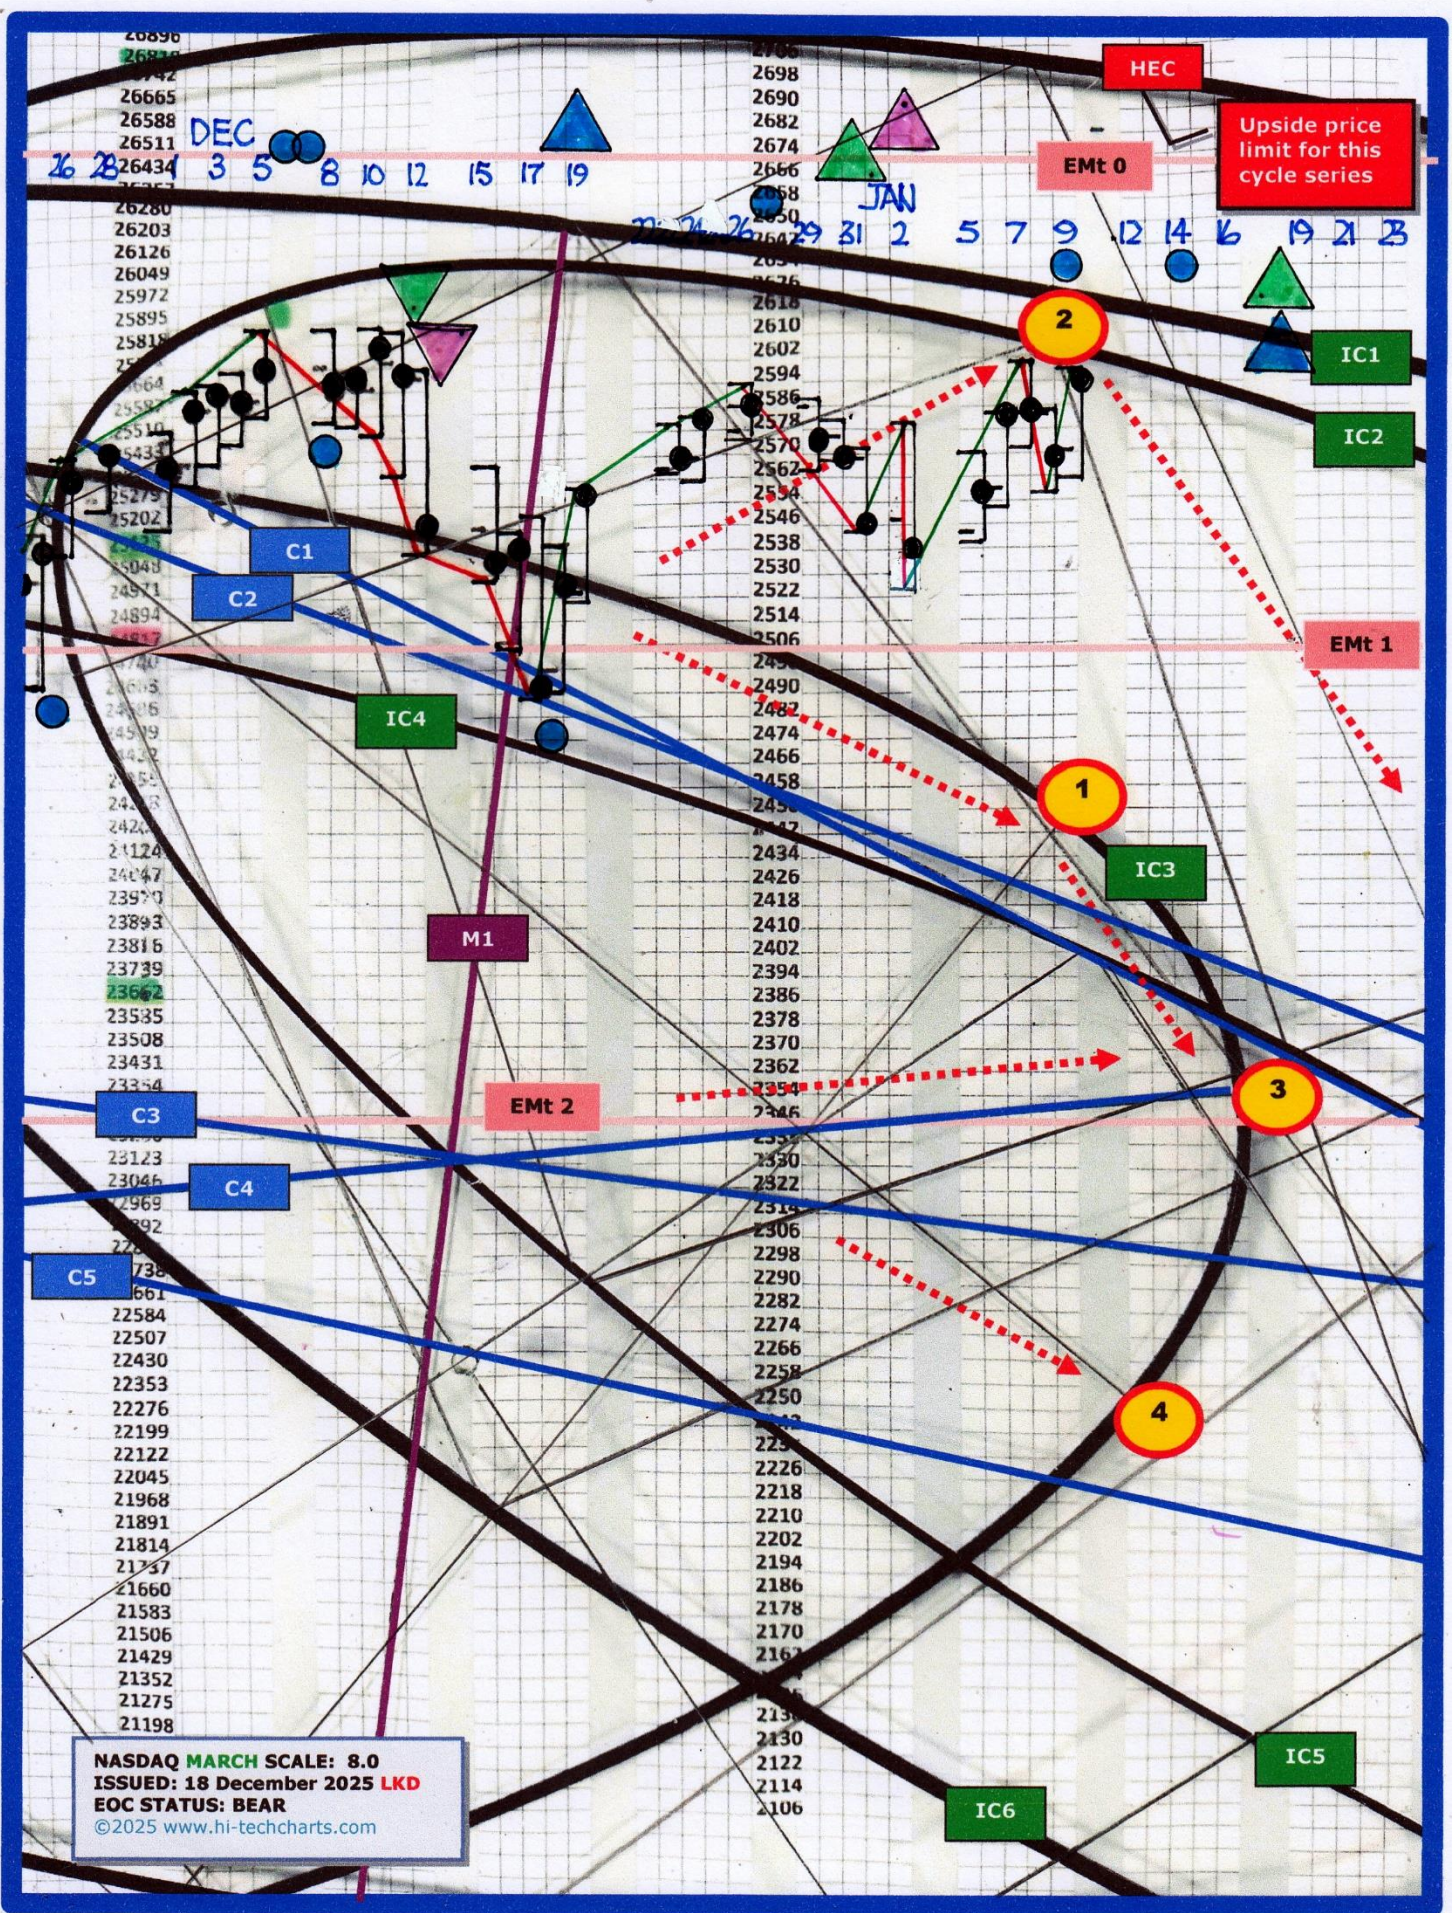

Below the moneymakingcharts is our EOC chart, a daily chart exposing the bull to bear, and bear to bull cycles, these being the complete cycle. An overview of our EOC cycle is included in the Tutorial but for Users to get the best results by marrying EOC cycles to elliptical cycles in moneymakingcharts, we recommend emailing us for a copy of George Bayer's 'The Egg of Columbus' from which the EOC science is derived.

Nasdaq made a top precisely on HEC on the 29th October 2025, (see chart below) and we consider this to be the top of the bull cycle running from Q4 2022. This top is marked as EMt 0 at 2674 (26740). It is likely the second bear market top will be at target 1. However, it is possible Nasdaq can break up through IC1 & IC2 and make the second bear market top at HEC. The blue C lines indicate the trend angle through to the first half of 2026 and price will need to fall back to these lines in January/February. It is possible price will hit target 2. Early falls in new bear markets often take a sharp dive.

NASDAQ EOC

- Small red & blue circles: EM time cycles forcing tops & bottoms
- Black lines joining tops & bottoms: EM price cycles in number of basic cycle units, e.g., (5) on a black line indicates five EM cycles.
- Blue symbols: Stages of the EM bull-bear-bull cycle patterns. For more information, contact us.
- For information on how to interpret the EOC charts email us at markethotspots@gmx.com and receive our EOC tutorial.
